In October 2017, our community -friendly team was privileged to author and publish the profile of New Hormisdallen school establishments in Uganda - Africa.

The said profile has since caused excitement on the one part and high demand for educational services on the other.

The school set-up is steadily taking shape to meet every segment of national and international standards.

The management appreciates the response of parents and learners from African countries such as Kenya, Tanzania, Ghana, Nigeria, Ethiopia, Zambia, Sudan, DRC, and the home country Uganda.

“We are investing in high quality educational facilities for quality educational services designed to meet the good response of national, continental and international clients,” explains Ms. Katasi Annette, the Resident Director.

Special Life Team has been privileged to closely Monitor, Review, Analyze the development trend of New Hormisdallen school establishments under the management leadership and techniques of Ms. Katasi Annette, the Resident Director.

Quality articles were authored and published between October 2017 and February 2020, to circulate on various Online and Offline platforms – Worldwide thus boosting visibility and publicity of the school establishment by over 75%.

The information friendliness of the school management team has caused a positive response from various development stakeholders in Africa and beyond.

The need to harmonize Offline operations with Online opportunities prompted the school management to restructure and re-strategize in a number of units not limited to human resources alone. For example, the traditional toilet facilities were all being replaced with water borne toilet facilities.

The modern toilet facilities are now available and operational at the early child development centre (nursery school) and the newly constructed multipurpose complex.

International news channels and child-friendly television channels are within the easy access to learners, teachers, and the school community generally.

MS. KATASI ANNETTE
Has Email Reviews First on the Agenda.

The office has a Mini Conference Facility

Most strategic places have been privileged to accommodate TV screens and other accessories.

However, the channels are programmed to run under strict and / or restricted schedules in order to protect main stream programs as per the National Curriculum.

The day- to -day activities at New Hormisdallen educational facility would prompt a serious writer / researcher / author to interface with the person in charge of decision making that has shaped and propelled the establishment to a World- class educational facility, and yet within less than two decades.

Ms. Katasi Annette is the Resident Director in charge of finance and administration. Her work involves among other roles: Making vital decisions for and on behalf of the school and above all taking rightful action every other minute of the hour.

We are privileged to write and let you know the African lady, named Ms. Katasi Annette and how she works so hard to shape the school with the support of other directors not named herein. The team has a common task to consolidate the hard-earned achievements. Please read on!

OTHER PROFESSIONALS.

The management of New Hormisdallen school establishments used the end of term/year 2019, to call for fresh application from all existing employees and other interesting professionals in the categories of teaching and non-teaching human resources. Nearly all vacancies were re-advertised to enable the management recruit a new team of workforce.

Some teachers/employees with active employment contracts were privileged to have their active months paid off on the one part and those with expired contracts were served appropriate status notification document dated 18th August 2019, undersigned by the managing Head teacher copied to managing director of the school establishment and the chairperson school management committee.

Nearly all employees of the establishment re-applied under the new arrangement but only half were reabsorbed and/or successful due to various reasons not privy to our team.

Meanwhile, a new team of professionals were interviewed and most of them excelled, giving the establishment a new team of workforce determined to boost performance holistically and consolidate hard-earned achievements as the most preferred assets of the establishment.

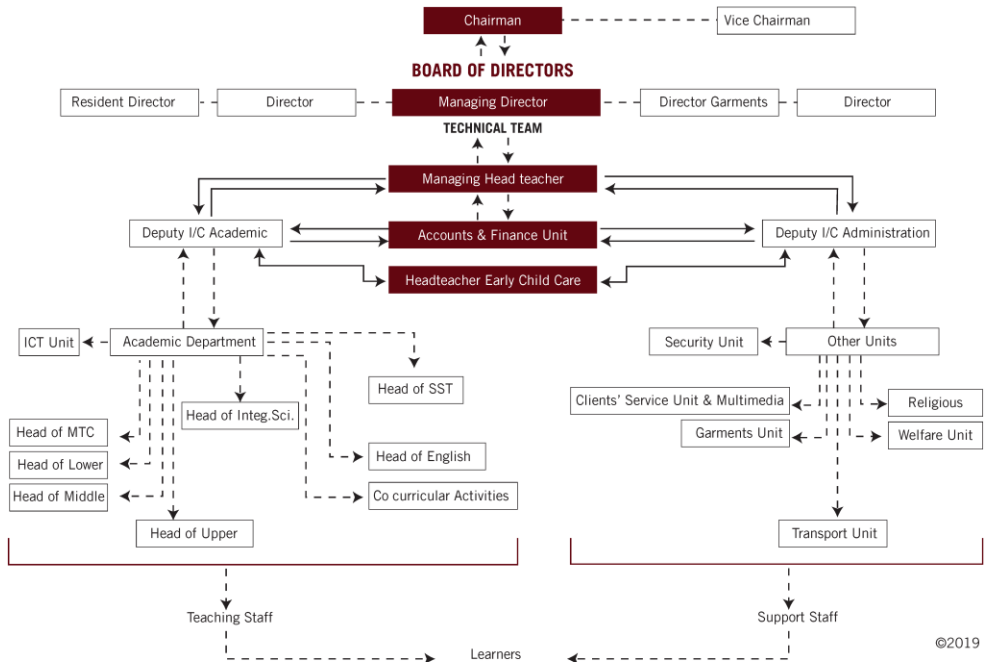

The new management leadership has Mr. Munabi George William as the Head teacher, Mr. Amecu David, the Deputy Head teacher and Mr. Mulabbi Francis, the Director of Studies.
